

Above, we see Planet X from a (solar system West) side view: Earth is out-of-view to the right, Sun is to the left. These images are possible because of the Stereo Behind and Ahead satellite program NASA has in place to observe the trajectory of Planet X. Placed in space just outside of Earth's orbit path, they offer a stereoscopic view of objects within view. The graphic to the right, indicates the approximate position of the particular satellite involved in this image, the HI-1. (The position of Stereo Ahead HI-1 as of the timing of this NewsLetter, is about 170 degrees apart from the Stereo Behind HI-1.) It is important to note that everything NASA does is to observe Planet X, but always with a nice front-story for public assimilation.

In this, the tenth edition of Planet X NewsLetter, there is a pregnant pause waiting for the big 7-out-of-10 event announced by the Zetas. This baby is a commitment on timing, so it is an important milestone as time parameters have not been previously delivered. I cover this later in this issue.

My sense of pole-shift timing is telling me that we are looking at possibly early 2012 now. Sliding scale scheduling: we don't need to know the date; let me explain. We have an identifiable sequence of events that will play out in the form of a calendar. The closer we get to the "severe wobble" (the calendar beginning), we will be able to establish markers or identifiable points-of-time within the chain of events. This severe wobble will take the form of the Moon or the Sun being far out of position. Earth's run-down to the pole-shift can be synced more and more accurately as the game plays out.

This issue, I've added a new section: "Breaking News". In the "New Reader" section, I describe how it is that the general public does not naturally know of Planet X. There are stories of Planet X in some subcultures as well as the primary cultures, including the Catholic Church: "The Third Secret of Fatima" is explored. The Kolbrin story is another example of non-religious text that fully reports many things of old Earth Life, translated to a wonderful old style English. Manuscripts 3:4: "When blood drops upon the Earth, the Destroyer will appear, and mountains will open up and belch forth fire and ashes. Trees will be destroyed and all living things engulfed. Waters will be swallowed up by the land, and seas will boil."

(Planet X NewsLetter: "blood" is the copious red iron oxide dust from the tail of Planet X and "boiling" is caused by wide- fault line movement releasing magma.) Also, I have a story about amazing wide-spread evidence of the ancient presence of the Anunnaki on the East coast of continental U.S. Another interesting story is the exposure of the U.S. Military and their latest attempt to dominate mankind, they receive a thumbs down from the Council of Worlds: the Falcon story. Finally, I had great fun researching the Mother Shipton story.

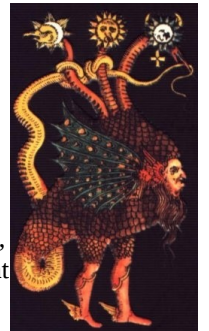

Section for new readers

The topic of Planet X is much bigger than a neophyte can conceive at first look. It is a mosaic of culturally hidden, forgotten or unknown historical events for several reasons, although surprising as it may be, Planet X is the main causal force of the shaping of Earth's current landscape, continental land-masses and sea-bottom definition. The far-reaching influence of Planet X was almost entirely unknown by early-modern scientists, conversely, indigenous peoples of every continent all have stories of the passage of Planet X, as they have an entirely different set of values than that of the nonnative local societies. These honor their ancestral history, their living elders and the land that they walk on. You can find these narrations either carved in stone, drawn on cave walls, as mythological word-of-mouth legends or as, for example, Sumerian cuneiform text on clay tablets. (right image is a Mayan allegorical depiction of Planet X and left, is an example of cuneiform text)

Even prior to the development of modern Western society from the early Greek, the memory of the last passage that occurred during the time of the Jewish Exodus from Egypt was beginning to fade. Vestiges of the memory of Planet X were still in the very early English culture, however (right – The Azoth with 3 heads: from left: moon, sun, Planet X). Additionally, transplanted communities as created by the moving about of the wealthy and aggressive societies settling on new continents during "The age of Discovery", hardly engaged with the aboriginal peoples of the time who carried the knowledge of Planet X, forming another dis-connect. Even in the ancient texts of the Greeks, there can be found discussions of their ancient times (twice removed) of great floods and the like. Words when read, sound very much like the effects that Planet X has on Earth.

We have a dis-jointed, uncollated, politically censored, culturally-filtered "knowledge" of history that has, generally-agreed very wide gaps of missing chronology. Worse: the status quo today projects the current expectations of information from a text book or the quick access of the internet onto an unimaginable way of life before supermarkets, government hand-outs, department stores and credit cards. These "live and let die times", when living to 35 years of age was a common thing, is far and above the awareness of the inhabitants of the warm wooden homes of the West. The other-side of comfortable living, where one is always looking for, or preparing the next meal: salting, drying, harvesting or planting/storing seed or stocking the root cellar, avoiding the army looking to conscript one into service – a sure early death, ducking the king's militia and/or paying the heavy taxes, puts one's mind on things other than maintaining a historical record.

This passage of planet X or the crustal shift, otherwise known as the pole-shift, is a deadly affair and the consequences are well understood by select heads of current Western powers. Although NASA and their planetary scientists and astronomers cannot gauge the timing of the passage of Planet X, they have known about this planetary complex since the early 1980s. It was at that time a cover-up was laid down on any public discussion of Planet X, but not before information was leaked from several sources, this, a snippet from the Washington Post (1981):

We have a corporate and governmental cover-up blocking the knowledge of Planet X to the T.V.-Internet centric public, at least in the First and Second Worlds, including the reporting of certain Earth Change and Meteoric events as a minimum, keeping the general populous Planet X ignorant. This cover-up is accompanied by the ultimate consequence of “talking” as meted out by various agents that perform such deeds. The proposition of Planet X at work, school or at home is met with wrinkled or raised brows. This emphasizes the core of the problem: Concepts that poke outside the cultural texture are generally avoided, as they are challenging and uncomfortable, accordingly, they are dismissed as “crazy-talk”. It is no wonder that Planet X is generally unknown today.

Possibly as Large as Jupiter Mystery Heavenly Body Discovered

By Thomas O'Toole
manipulated image

A heavenly body possibly as large as the giant planet Jupiter and possibly so close to Earth that it would be part of this solar system has been found in the direction of the constellation Orion by an orbiting telescope aboard the U.S. infrared astronomical satellite.

atory and director of the Palomar Observatory for the California Institute of Technology, said in an interview.

The most fascinating explanation of this mystery body, which is so cold it casts no light and has never been seen by optical telescopes on Earth or in space, is that it is a giant gaseous planet as large as Jupiter and as close to

The Catholic Church, or more to the point, the Vatican, is highly secretive and overlaid with layers of worship tradition, its own language, concepts and dress, with centuries of accumulation. With its great wealth and unique cultural and political status, the leadership has attracted those individuals hardened with a Lifetime of enjoying the protection of this fortress of theology. Consequently, the truth of such a story as the Third Secret of Fátima is definitively unreachable, as the original letter is locked in the archives of the Vatican. Those who will have seen the words of the letter will only have been the reigning Pope's eyes, save Sister Lucia. Hearsay is that Third Secret of Fátima is a great calamity taking the lives of millions of people, an Apocalypse of biblical proportions:

“A star, the Asteroid, will illuminate the earth causing it to appear to be surrounded by flames during a period of some twenty minutes, an event which will spread panic everywhere... This will occur in the near future. When the Asteroid lights up the earth making it appear that the whole world is in flames, many people will wish to die at that shower of fire... a fear which will in fact cause the death of many people...” (provided by an unknown person “close to the Vatican”).

The Zetas have confirmed that the Third Secret of Fátima was the foretelling of the pole-shift and that “the suppression of the remaining Fatima Secret was done for the convenience of the Catholic Church...”

The Third Secret of Fátima

The Third Secret of Fátima was the most important message to mankind this last Century, yet the leaders of the Catholic Church decided to suppress the contents of this gift to the world. The person at the center of the Third secret of the Fátima was Carmelite nun, Sister Lucia. She was born Lucia Santos in Aljustrel, Portugal on March 22, 1907 and died on February 13, 2005 at 97 years of age.

Sister Lucia at 30 years of age

At ten years of age, she and two other Portuguese children, cousins Francisco and Jacinta Marto aged nine and seven (image, right - “The Fatima Children”), experienced the spiritual visions in the town of Fátima, Portugal. Between May and October 1917, “The children of the Fátima” received these visions from the “Lady of the Rosary”, around noon on the 13th day of each month. At one point, the horror of the Third Secret “sent them screaming in horror, writhing on the ground”.

*“The Fatima Children”
Lucia Santos, Left.*

Sister Lucia's two cousins were both victims of the Great Spanish Flu epidemic of 1918-1920, leaving Sister Lucia the sole bearer of the Earthly information of the vision. This, the secret of the Fátima, was written down by Sister Lucia in 1944 in three parts, and was formally passed to the Vatican in 1957 in a sealed envelope. The Zetas say that Sister Lucia was “sworn to silence” on the matter and banished to a Life of being a “cloistered nun”, which basically means Catholic house arrest. Each successive pope thereafter, maintained the cover-up on the Third Secret.

Zeta prediction: A 7 out of 10 major global Earth Change event

Sometime between now and the end of the year (2010), the Zetas have predicted a “7 out of 10” global event to occur. The seven out of ten event is not a point in a linear progression as a “date to pole-shift”, but is an intensity qualifier. The Zetas are under restriction by the Council of Worlds* to not say exactly when or where the seven will happen, but have slyly suggested it may begin with the (South) tip of the tongue of the Eurasian plate (orange) being pushed downward, putting the Indonesian seashores under the waves, at about a 40 foot loss of elevation. Southern China, at the Northern end (top) of the orange overlay, will have a loss of 20 feet which is the “bending” point of the Eurasian plate.

The Himalayas are the result of the rigidity of the Eurasian plate, so it is easy to imagine this “tongue” being forced downward by the Pacific Plate moving Westward (blue) against the Indo-

Australian plate (yellow) in a domino effect.

This will be accompanied with a tilting (west side, downwards) of the Indian Plate (dark red) and plunging Pakistan and Western India (purple) further toward sea level. Conversely, the floor of the Coral Sea is rising (green area East of Australia). The Indian plate is the keystone for major global plate movements. Additionally, the Zetas say that a series of events will actually be launched at the seven intensity and not just a single event, and will continue into 2011.

Breaking News

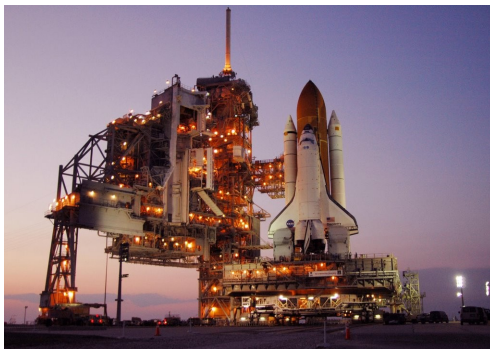

CNN was live reporting on the last shuttle Discovery mission on the Morning of November 5, 2010 when it became obvious there was an active security detail on the prowl looking for a threat. NASA denied this shortly afterward saying it was a routine exercise, however CNN was not impressed. CNN also closely listens for newsworthy happenings with radio channel scanning, and noted that this event was not described as a drill.

We have on-the-spot Zeta information on this event, saying that this was indeed not a drill, it was a real threat. Drills of this nature are not performed with reporters on site. NASA is very sensitive to public opinion.

In the past few years there have been episodes of NASA personnel “going postal”, the Zetas: “An astronaut driving across country in diapers to face an adulterous spouse in February, 2007. A scuffle over a poor evaluation of a contractor resulting in a shooting death in April, 2007.”

Lets examine what is happening on the inside at NASA and Jet Propulsion Labs (JPL). Employees know of Planet X first-hand, they all know. They are bound by strictly enforced non-disclosure agreements and they are under incredible stress. There are reports of hostage takings, mysterious explosions, shuttle equipment sabotage to name a few. Moreover, astronaut drinking problems have surfaced: This is no surprise, considering the fact that International Space Station (ISS) assignments are considered a suicide mission these days. The astronauts routinely view Planet X on their flights above the atmosphere and have to keep this among themselves.

According to the Zetas, the real reason for the Glenn Research Center high security threat event is that an individual learned he was going to be part of the launch team and could not handle a friend going into space knowing what he knows, and pulled a gun.

Crowd control

The U.S. Military designed the so-called “Active Denial System” (A.D.S. - Image to the above, right), but it was not intended for use in war other than to wage war on its own population. It employs a strong millimetre-wave transmitter, also called a heat ray. This awful device was developed under the Bush administration (no surprise there) and these days is ostensibly planned for “crowd control”. It can stun or kill a whole group of people.

The Zetas say that the A.D.S. was “created to control an unruly populace in the After-time.”

Withdrawn from Afghanistan unused, A.D.S. now sits idle. The plans of the powerful dark forces in the U.S.

(same people who arranged for the theft of the 2004 elections) also included bio-terrorism in cities, selective vaccinations and the Chem-trail operation. The point is to eliminate the “unwanted eaters”, who are the sick, elderly and the weak, thereby creating a healthy and strong workforce by savage and intended attrition. Kept in small A.D.S.-controlled villages, the remaining population would be slaves to these heartless despots.

Such individuals that attempt this kind of an agenda are the Service To Self type, and can only function by a brutal pecking order. The A.D.S. is the kind of thing that will be used to establish and maintain this kind of hierarchy. Before running out of parts and falling into disrepair, the A.D.S. units will be used within a fractionated U.S. Military to kill each other.

After that, both the U.S. Military and the A.D.S. units will fall silent.

The Woolly Bear caterpillar is not going to predict the winter this time!

The cause of the Woolly Bear Caterpillar folklore resurgence: “In the fall of 1948, Dr. C. H. Curran, curator of insects at the American Museum of Natural History in New York City, took his wife 40 miles north of the city to Bear Mountain State Park to find woolly bear caterpillars. Dr. Curran collected as many caterpillars as he could in a day, determined the average number of reddish-brown segments, and forecast the coming winter weather through a reporter friend at The New York Herald Tribune. Dr. Curran's experiment, which he continued over the next eight years, attempted to prove scientifically a weather rule of thumb that was as old as the hills around Bear Mountain. The resulting publicity made the woolly bear the most recognizable caterpillar in North America.” (The Old Farmer's Almanac – 1999).

The Zetas were asked (October 9, 2010 ZetaChat) about the common superstition of the Woolly Bear Caterpillar: The old belief claims that the size of the colored sections of the Woolly Bear caterpillar predict the coming winter: the wider the brown section means a milder winter; the narrower, the more harsh the winter.

Since Earth has moved from the serpentine wobble to the “rattled wobble” motion in response to the nearby presence of Planet X, weather has become more difficult to predict, even for the Zetas. If magnetic opposition returns (Earth tipping its North pole at Planet X, as it did this last summer) the Northern Hemisphere will freeze, yet this is countered by ocean currents moving further than expected. The Zetas do say that the Northern Hemisphere will have cooler temperatures this winter (2010-2011), but with no Woolly Bear Caterpillar in sight, we haven't had the chance to observe its furry opinion.

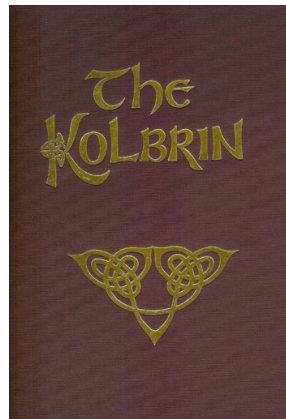

Best history of the pole-shift: The Egyptian Kolbrin

The Zetas say that the Egyptian Kolbrin, a big threat to those in power in the Christian church, who had typically tried to stamp it out, has survived three pole-shifts. Removed from the Christian Bible because it was so accurate, the book of Enoch also laid out the pole-shift warning flags for future generations. Texts like the Kolbrin and the book of Enoch empowered those who had access to them, where they could gain the valuable knowledge of the passage of "The Destroyer" (Jeremiah, Old Testament).

Today, Human society is almost entirely ignorant of Planet X. Looking back, we see that our Ancestors had no choice but to retreat and rebuild their lives from scratch--less than scratch actually--forsaking the memory, the knowledge of the great undoing, otherwise face starvation.

According to the Zetas, in this last millennium, the Church has opted for psychological manipulation in its rule, as opposed to previous times where brutality was used. Clearly the Church has been using fear and guilt to enslave their followers to the idea that only the Church can save them from destruction, thereby ensuring the continence of the Vatican's lavish lifestyle. It is so ironic that the Church would cowardly use their authority and responsibility as religious leaders to line their own pockets. They surround themselves with beautiful art, live in great houses, and fill their stomachs with the best food, all the while knowing full well of the "The Third Secret of Fátima" which clearly tells of the great upheaval we are facing with the pole-shift. A pox on their house!

Set up now or wait: that's the question

Set your survival site now now, or wait until after the shift? The desire for comfort may overtake some camps to want to set up beforehand. Faced with uncertain timing, with months of camping behind them or perhaps lulled into a sense of security, such a move could prove extremely unfortunate or near-fatal.

The Zetas say the obvious to those who have thought about this: anchor and protect your supplies and material so it will not blow, be washed away or otherwise damaged during the crustal shift. Ride out the earthquakes, deluge of rain and torrents, hurricane wind, showering meteors and then assemble afterward. Certainly, whatever secure underground shelter you create can be used for a root cellar in the after-time. If located in a high, well-drained area and with lockable doors or openings, it would make an excellent storage facility as well.

Proof of a closer Planet X

(Above, the blue image to the left is a SOHO image of Planet X in 2006, and the red is October 2010.)

The Zetas commented (October 16, ZetaChat) about the appearance of Planet X from SOHO these days (top right), in that its shape has taken on a new persona. Although Planet X does take on different appearances due to its huge tail shifting about in the particle flow breeze, the Zetas say that this latest development is due, not to a change in shape, but to its actual closer proximity to Earth. The SOHO cameras take exposures based on the Sun being at a relatively constant distance from Earth and therefore not rapid enough to capture a "clean shot" of a closer Planet X.

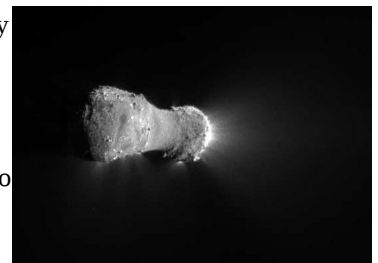

Great Depression number two

The Zetas say that the world is indeed suffering a second great depression, but that is being covered-up as well. The bursting of the Bush administration housing bubble has brought this about. Why is this important information for the person readying his family for the pole-shift? Currency devaluation, the price of food and goods will face off-the-charts inflation and even bank closure and limited access to your money are imminent.

Comet 103P/Hartley 2, (passed by October 20,2010) like all comets, is primarily composed of ice left over from the early days of water planets in the Asteroid Belt, is susceptible to erosion by solar wind. Regardless of its slowly shrinking mass, arrived early, whereas NASA "has amended comet trajectories and dates to take the halted orbit into account."(Zetas)

To contact author: chrismwakefield@gmail.com

Being realistic about pole-shift preparation

A comment made by the Zetas that was quite to the point in response to a question this session (October 16, ZetaChat) about a particular flower essence that helps with fear. Flower essence of Fig was inquired upon as an example to help with cleansing "specific miasmas". The terse reply by the Zetas highlights an important point: preparations for the Pole-shift do indeed involve mental readiness and emotional stability, but pole-shift readiness is far-and-above that of gathering flower essences for what we are about to face. (This response notwithstanding, the Zetas have often encouraged the use of medicinal herbs).

I have experienced the benefit of flower essences and they work, of course, but this is not the point. What this frames for me, however, is the mindset that many sensitives have: they seemed focused in on cherishing a smooth emotional environment. This, being their focus, reveals the fact that they do not clearly perceive Earth Change events and the resulting pole-shift as a life-threatening, and subsequently a rough and deadly adventure. Flower essences for the pole-shift: a little like bringing silk slippers to a demolition derby.

The pole-shift: A bath in a powerful electromagnetic field

Many readers may remember the Northeast Blackout of that occurred at 4:11 pm. EDT on August 14, 2003 making life difficult for 55 million people during a peak period of cultural activity. As Planet X entered the Solar system at high speed, it encountered the Sun's repulsion force and did a dramatic slowdown, the tail of Planet X overshot the corpus of Planet X, and reached the full 93,000 miles to envelop Earth, eventually overloading the electrical systems to shutdown. This is the power of just the tip of Planet X's tail.

It is common knowledge that the Human brain is electrochemical in nature and is sensitive to electromagnetic swings in intensity. Some people, called "sensitives", are profoundly affected by nearby electromagnetic fields generated by electric house panel, power transformers and even plain house wiring. However, the charge that Planet X generates is many orders of magnitude larger and more powerful due to its magnetic field. The 5 million mile long tail is also highly charged. The Zetas say this charge can cause sensations of dizziness or an off-balance sensation due to the nerves of the Human body being overloaded to the charge of Planet X's tail.

The effects of this kind of stress are many, but a possible suppressed sex drive, miscarriages, gaining body fat, dizziness and loss of balance are a few temporary symptoms possible leading up to the pole-shift. In other words, the body is triggered into a biological survival mode.

The Anunnaki in New Jersey

Below, we have images taken from Google maps of the Manahawkin Wildlife Management Area near New Jersey. The designs seen in the closeup (bottom) are channels of sea water. It is a fact that a very long time ago the Anunnaki carved out these hieroglyphs to be used as descriptive guide-points to be seen from the sky as they returned to Earth after a pole-shift. At that time, New Jersey was higher in elevation. The Zetas say that there are many more such sites, but are no longer visible as they are underwater.

(The above image is right out of Google maps (link); these amazing patterns on land next to the sea extend for miles.)

The Anunnaki (image, left, is Easter Island moai) are seasoned space travelers to Earth, and have seen the effects of many a pole-shift on Earth. These markings were laid down to make sure they could identify the locale they were flying over upon their return, approximately 3,656 years later. Continents will have shifted - even disappeared, mountains increased, new seaways created, volcanic explosions and islands anew; a testament to what we are facing with the impending crustal or pole-shift.

Interesting note: As Planet X, their home planet, came close for a pass, "The Anunnaki would unload the gold that had been collected on Earth, refresh or replace the mining crews on Earth and load them up with supplies, and then wait on their home planet for the passage" (Zetas). This "ahead of passage" activity was essential, as Planet X makes a rather quick exit from the solar system once it passes Earth, making space shuttle travel to and from their fast-moving Planet problematic.

Since these designs are clearly meant to be seen from the air, this is a wonderful example of the history of Anunnaki Life on Earth.

U.S. Military Falcon HTV-2 was destroyed by E.T.s

The International Space Station (ISS) is an internationally supported effort and does not threaten the balance of power. Although it has several front-end diversions for public consumption, it is also used for viewing the progress of Planet X. The Zetas say the ISS has been under assault for some years by meteor and emission damage from Planet X, making the rotating crew frantic to put their feet back on Terra.

The unmanned X-37B, slightly larger than the Falcon, was launched April 23, 2010. Having a similar intent to that of the ISS, it has also passed the inspection of the Council of Worlds. The X-37B is another in a series of automatic space vehicles created specifically to replace the ISS when it is shortly no longer habitable.

The Falcon HTV-2 (right image is genuine - enlarged), however, was designed to strike anywhere in the world in less than one hour, clearly an upper hand for the U.S. Military against any other world power. Despite looking like an older fighter jet, it is much smaller, unmanned, operates sub-orbital and flies at speeds reaching 13,000 mph. Reported by The Washington Times (Thursday, July 22, 2010) to have “disintegrated and burned up in the upper atmosphere”, the Zetas say this aircraft was disallowed by the Council of Worlds. Nine minutes into its half-hour maiden flight on April 20, 2010 the Falcon received a spiritual “smackdown”. Cool.

Mother Shipton, Zeta predictions and the appearance of Planet X

Mother Shipton, according to legend, was born in a cave next to the river Nidd in a town called Knaresborough, North Yorkshire, England (1488–1561). Named Ursula Southeil (possibly Southill or Soothtell), she was better known as Mother Shipton. Said to be one of England's greatest prophets, her writings are found in various publications since 1641. Her last name came by marriage to a carpenter, Toby Shipton.

Common opinion is that the following verses were discovered on the outer wrappings of the original scrolls and some were even found in jars. About 40 years ago, these verses were painstakingly transcribed by an unknown person and smuggled from the Mitchell library, Sydney, New South Wales.

Mother Shipton is referring to the passage of Planet X here in her verses:

“A fiery dragon will cross the sky
Six times before this earth shall die Mankind will tremble and frightened be for the sixth heralds in this prophecy.”

“For seven days and seven nights
Man will watch this awesome sight.
The tides will rise beyond their ken
To bite away the shores and then
The mountains will begin to roar
And earthquakes split the plain to shore.”

“And when the dragon's tail is gone,
Man forgets, and smiles, and carries on
To apply himself - too late, too late
For mankind has earned deserved fate.”

The Zetas explain that the “six times” are the various stages of Earth in the final days to the pole-shift:

1. Planet X appears “too far to the right during the Lean to the Left; 2. Then too far to the left while the Earth swings into the 3 Days of Darkness; 3. Then is in a different place entirely during the 6 days of Sunrise West when the Earth is upside down; 4. Then moves to the right during the slowing rotation; 5. Then it is in yet another place during the week of rotation stoppage when the Earth is drawn closer to Planet X than before; 6. Then is seen passing overhead during the hour of the passage itself; then finally it wends its way out of the solar system while seen from Earth as if moving in a curve.

Since the Zetas have commented on her work, you can be sure she was genuine. It seems when someone of note, especially a woman seer, who appears on the surface of the Earth, there is always going to be others who will try to discredit or plagiarize her writings, and her rhymed couplets of prediction certainly attracted those.

It has been four-and-a-half centuries since her passing and we expect inaccuracies and confusion, but when you read the verses, the detail is surprisingly accurate, especially when considered as written so long ago. The third quoted stanza of Mother Shipton really stands out: my interpretation of it is that without making plans, we endure the unconscious fate of the masses. A message, carried forward four-and-a-half centuries: prepare for the pole-shift, for you will be very unhappy if you don't.

Allegedly, Mother Shipton's House

Planet X story updates

Update on Zecharia Sitchin – Story: The Anunnaki - Mayan Calendar (Issue 8)

Zecharia Sitchin (July 11, 1920 – October 9, 2010)

The Good scientist Zecharia Sitchin got what he wanted on October 9, 2010 – his death before the Pole-shift. According to the Zetas, he didn't want to be the bearer of bad tidings, so he maintained the “cover-up” of Planet X in the in the solar system now by saying the passage was years away (originally 1,000, then more recently 60 years hence). The Zetas also say that the lack of a will to live contributed to his death at 90 years of age.

Update on: When an elder speaks, listen.

In Planet X NewsLetter Issue #8, I included a brief story about Inuit elders expressing profound concerns regarding their Arctic environment. This story, is from a series of short interviews by IsumaTV, an independent Inuit and indigenous multimedia group, where Inuit elders talk about the Earth Axis tilt and how it is affecting their way of life in the North.

Essentially, current Earth Axis tilt is causing changes in the arch of the Sun, which in turn, affects the amount of sunlight the Inuit have such short supply of. Erratic positions of the Sun and Moon do not evade their attention.

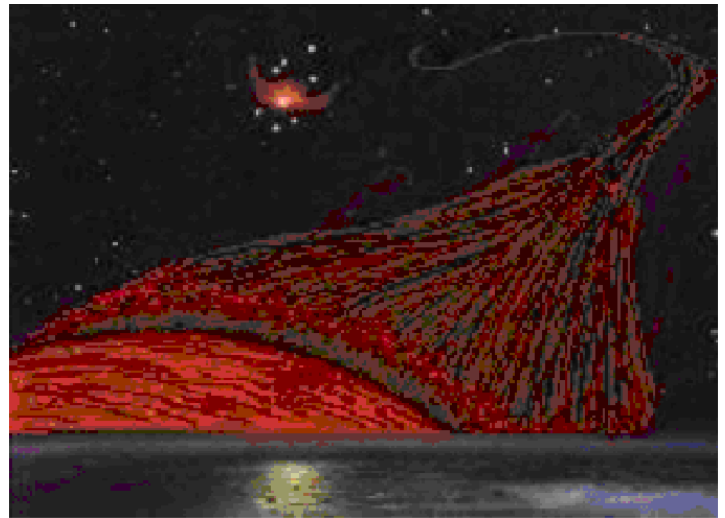

This film, by award winning filmmaker Zacharias Kunuk (maker of: “Atanarjuat: The Fast Runner”, receiving a Genie award), had some public exposure, but recently has been picked up (news clip) by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, expanding the public disclosure. What is also interesting is that he has teamed up with Ian Mauro, an environmental scientist, lending more weight to his work, although I would be happy with the word of an Inuit elder. What I also love about this development is that this work escapes the hand of the U.N.'s International Panel on Climate Change (IPCC), the main pill-pusher behind the so-called “Global Warming” disorder.

More good news on this story: The day this was aired on CBC (October 20, 2010), another similar story was published on beforeitsnews.com on the same day. The Zetas say this is the influence of the “Puppet Master” (explained in principle here) at work revealing that the media coverup on the effects of Planet X on Earth is under pressure from the highest source of Wealth and political power.

The pole-shift dream

Have you ever woken from a dream and were so relieved when you realized you were only just having a dream? I have news for some of you: your dreams are real experiences in a different body. When the heavy earth changes begin and we start hearing Earth groan, ear-splitting stratospheric lightning, hurricane-force winds and thundering rain, with glimpses of meteoric hail and and bone-shaking earthquake vibrations, it will be like a dream, only in your physical body.

(The Image above is sourced from the: Planet X and the Kolbrin Bible Connection, yowusa.com – Abridged Citations edition: The Kolbrin – Gleanings 4.24)

Although the Planet X NewsLetter is entertaining, its purpose is threefold: to introduce Planet X to the general public, to keep Zeta followers simply-informed on core ZetaTalk and to shake the reader into the reality of the impending pole-shift. My intent is to save as many lives as possible, with this, the second-most intense pole-shift of the history of Earth in a long while. Yes, many pole-shifts have only moved the poles a few hundred miles; the last one for example, only moved the North pole Southward a few hundred miles. This is not a drill, Soldier, this is live, and you are a go.

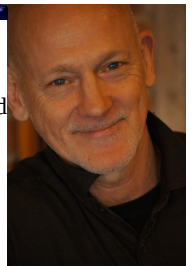

At this time (November 6, 2010) we have, at least, most of 2011 to get ready for the Crustal Shift. What advice are you giving to yourself about preparing for this? First, of course, you have to be convinced of the validity of this global threat, and that's the hard part. Once a person realizes their life is in danger by a direct identifiable threat, they will quickly take action to stay alive. The problem here is that the pole-shift is on a global scale, something that one would take cues by sensing anomalies from the ground, the animals, the sea and the weather. The Inuit are a good example of this. Then there is the intuitive factor, but those not in tune with their natural world, whether due to being steeped in domineering concepts supported by a belief system or a life of living in an apartment in the city, prevents one from taking the cues.

Imagine yourself muddy, cold, hungry and possibly injured by a fast climb to the top of your local mountain or a frantic run for 10 miles, out-of-breath, no possessions just the clothes on your back. Where are your loved ones? Or, imagine yourself warm and secure in your bunker/survival location with your loved ones, waiting for the pole-shift with a year's supply of food and provisions at a high and dry safe-location. It's your choice.

About the Author

60 years of age, ex-door-to-door salesman, ex-reverend (now a follower of Eckankar). Father of five offspring. One of my passions is A capella singing. I live in sunny Victoria B.C Canada, as of yet, virtually undisturbed by Earth Changes.

Chris Thomas Wakefield

To contact author: chrismwakefield@gmail.com